

Biography: Stephanie Cunningham

Environmental Assistance Division
Texas Commission on Environmental Quality

Texas Environmental Excellence Awards Program Coordinator

Stephanie is the Program Coordinator for the Texas Environmental Excellence Awards.

Prior Experience and Education

Stephanie has a degree in Biology from the University of Texas. Her focus while at UT was in neuroendocrine research and she spent 4 years as a research assistant prior to coming to the TCEQ. While with the Environmental Assistance Division, she has managed mandated and elective recycling programs such as Household Hazardous Waste and statewide electronics recycling programs and assisted with the P2 Program. This is her second year as program coordinator for the Texas Environmental Excellence Awards, initiated under the Waste Reduction Policy Act of 1991 and currently in its 24th year. Each year by honoring these winners, the TCEQ hopes to encourage others to initiate like-minded projects and reinforce a spirit of environmental stewardship.
